A PROFILE OF PURPOSE AND AMBITION

Founder Introduction

Benita Samson

Founder & CEO | Connecting Dots Worldwide

Benita Samson is an entrepreneur and business leader whose journey reflects the courage to step beyond conventional success and build something of her own.

After nearly a decade in the banking industry, she made a defining decision: to leave a successful professional career and pursue an entrepreneurial ambition she had carried for years.

Today, her work spans education, international opportunities, digital content and emerging ventures — connected by a belief in creating opportunities and building with purpose.

> Her story is not simply about changing careers. It is about choosing to create a new path.

HER STORY

The Courage to Begin Again

Benita Samson was not born into a business family. Entrepreneurship was not a family tradition, nor was running a company something she grew up watching at home. Yet, she had a dream of building something of her own.

For nearly a decade, she built her professional career in the banking industry, gaining valuable experience with National Australia Bank (NAB) and later Commonwealth Bank of Australia (CBA), where she spent her final six months.

She had reached a successful stage in her career. But professional success was not the only ambition she carried.

For almost five years, she had been thinking about starting a business of her own. She wanted to build something independently, create opportunities and establish an identity beyond her professional career.

Eventually, she made a decision that would change her life.

She walked away from her high-paying banking career, the financial comfort she had built, and the security of her established life in Australia. She sold her home and cars and decided to pursue the entrepreneurial dream she had been planning for years.

> It was not an easy decision. It was a decision driven by conviction.

In February 2025, she brought the Hope Education & Migration franchise to Madurai, India, after discovering the opportunity through an education industry forum in Australia.

Her first six months in India were spent exploring the education market, meeting education counsellors, understanding the Indian admission ecosystem and building professional relationships. With a founding team of four, including herself, she began laying the groundwork for the venture.

AN UNEXPECTED CONNECTION

The Meeting That Changed the Direction

During her initial exploration of the Indian education market, Benita attended industry meetings and connected with education professionals. In several conversations, one name kept coming up: Gandhi.

People encouraged her to meet him, describing him as someone with deep knowledge of the Indian education admission ecosystem — someone who could help her understand the Indian market and how opportunities in India could connect with international education.

Through an introduction at Bharath University, Benita met Gandhi. He was invited to participate in an upcoming education expo, and the introduction opened the door to a shared experience at the event.

At the time, Hope Education & Migration was navigating an internal operational challenge. Benita and Gandhi decided to participate in the expo together.

The event gave them an opportunity to work alongside one another, understand each other's approach and build a strong professional connection.

After the expo, they discussed their respective business journeys, strengths and ambitions. Benita brought international education and migration experience through Hope Education & Migration. Gandhi had been developing Indian admissions through PickMyAdmission and international education through CareerBee Overseas Education.

> They recognised that their strengths complemented each other. The conversations moved from collaboration towards a shared business vision — and that vision became Career HQ.

TWO JOURNEYS • ONE SHARED BRAND

The Birth of Career HQ

Benita and Gandhi decided to bring their complementary strengths together under one common brand rather than continue with separate business identities.

On 15 October 2025, the Career HQ logo was created, marking the beginning of a shared brand identity built around education, opportunities and career development.

Career HQ was envisioned as a platform connecting students with educational opportunities in India and across the world. Its scope extends beyond admissions to career opportunities, industry relationships, professional development and student support.

CAREER HQ • AREAS OF WORK

Its work is reflected in the students supported, opportunities created and positive feedback received.
